Appomattox Boy Scouts are honored

LOUIS AND CHRIS ROBINSON receive Scout awards from their parents at ceremonies held recently by Troop

JUDSON DAVIDSON receives scouting pin from his mother at ceremonies for Scout Troop 546.

In a special induction ceremony June 4, Judson Davidson, Chris Robinson and Louis Robinson were welcomed into the scouting brotherhood as "Scouts" in Appomattox troop 546.

The boys' parents were present and presented their sons with the Scout awards.

Roy Brennen was also recognized in an informal ceremony for having completed his tenderfoot requirements his father presented him with his badge. Edward Garcia has completed all the requirements for life scout, which included painting the entrance booth at Appomattox Court House Historical Park. Roger Steinkamp and Ben Martin were recognized as candidates to the special scouting fellowship, "Order of the Arrow", and will participate in initiation ceremonies at summer camp.

On June 7, Pastor Carl Patton and the congregation of Hebron Baptist Church paid honor to David Totty and Ben Martin in awarding them the "God and Country" award. This award is the result of study and hard work under the direction of Pastor Patton, and service to church and community by these scouts.

The "God and Country" award is a very special award. It exemplifies the main principles of the Scouting movement; duty to God and duty to Country. These two Scouts; David Totty and Ben Martin apply these principles to their daily lives, and the troop, their family and friends are all proud of them.

Troop 546 meets every Wednesday night at 7:00 at St. Anne's Church, you are invited.

Longwood Division II

The National Collegiate Athletic Association has approved Longwood College's application to reclassify from Division III to Division II for the 1980-81 athletic year. NCAA officials notified Longwood Director of Men's Athletics, Dr. Ron Bash, of the formal approval last week.

The move to Division II will mean that Longwood can offer scholarships in men's basketball for the upcoming season and that Longwood's men's teams in baseball, soccer, golf, wrestling and tennis will compete in Division II also. Initially, only men's basketball will be scholarshipped. Tennis has been added for the upcoming year.

Competing in Division III this past season, Longwood ran up a 28-3 mark in basketball, finishing fourth in the national tournament. The Lancers accomplished this feat in only their second year in the NCAA.

Having offered men's athletics since 1976, Longwood fields women's teams in baseball, field hockey, golf, gymnastics, lacrosse, tennis, riding, volleyball and for the first time next year, softball. Scholarships are offered in basketball, golf, field hockey and gymnastics.

Longwood athletic teams will benefit from the addition of the college's new $4.5 million health, physical education and recreation complex which will be completed in the coming weeks. The new facility will include a gymnasium, with 3,000 permanent seats, an indoor pool and modern training facilities. Five outdoor tennis courts are being constructed nearby and a new, modern baseball facility is also being developed.
